Homecoming Royal Court 2022 Application

Homecoming Royal Court is an honored tradition of UNC Greensboro's Homecoming celebration to showcase and recognize a few of the many outstanding students at UNCG. The Royal Court is composed of eight (8) students who shall represent the University and student body at various campus and community events. Candidates compete annually for this honor, which recognizes two UNCG students for their participation in campus life and their promotion of school spirit. The Royal Court will be presented and the two UNCG Royalty winners announced at the annual UNCG Homecoming Block Party on Saturday, October 15, 2022. The two winners, in addition to the title and honor, will receive other rewards and responsibilities including: professional headshot, financial support for required community service project, 15 community service hours, requests to emcee various campus events, and UNCG sponsored professional development/leadership trainings.

Eligibility Requirements: All candidates must:

- Be enrolled full-time at the University for the 2022-2023 academic year.
- Have attended the University for at least one semester prior to application.
- Have a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.50.
- Be in good disciplinary standing with the University.
- Must be sponsored by a recognized student group, residence hall, or other University sanctioned involvement opportunity or department.
 - There is no financial support for sponsorship, only verification that the student is an active leader in a recognized group/department.
- Must be Junior, Senior, or Graduate Student.
- Must be able to attend and participate in all Homecoming activities as outlined in the Royalty Timeline. Please review the Royalty Timeline before submitting an application.

Note: Former Homecoming Royalty are not eligible.

The application includes an essay in response to the following questions:

- Essay Question #1: What does being a Spartan mean to you?
- Essay Question #2: If you are crowned, what idea or ideas do you have for the required community service project?

Responses are to be typed, double-spaced and are not to exceed three pages (not including the cover page)

All candidates are also required to submit an updated resume which includes a listing of their on-campus or co-curricular activities, including leadership, volunteer, and community service experiences.

Applications are due on Wednesday, August 31 at 5:00pm

Please note that the Homecoming Royal Court selection process and contest is not a beauty pageant. Royal Court will be screened and ultimately selected based on the applicants' ability to articulate and demonstrate academic performance, curricular and co-curricular involvement, contribution and connection to the university, interest in serving the community, and school spirit.

For any questions regarding Homecoming Royal Court, please contact Kynnith Francis-Vaughan, Office of Campus Activities and Programs, at kjfranc2@uncg.edu .

Royal Court Interview Process

A panel of judges will interview all the candidates and review all eligible application packets. The interviews will take place Thursday, September 8 through Friday, September 9 by sign-up only (no interviews on Labor Day).

Candidates will be judged on the following:

- Application Information (10 points)
 - Application Essay Responses (5 points)
 - Resume (5 points)
- Interview (30 points)
 - Communication (5 points)
 - Involvement in co-curricular activities on campus (5 points)
 - Reasoning on why they should be selected to be on Royal Court (5 points)
 - Service Project Potential/Creativity (5 points)
 - Professionalism (5 points)
 - Overall answers/responses (5 points)

The decision of the judging panel is final.

Candidate Obligations

All students selected to be on the Royal Court will have a variety of obligations to fulfill, including the Royal Court Schedule. Each applicant must understand that these appearances are mandatory and by accepting the court position is also agreeing to fulfill them. In the event that a candidate is unable to fulfill the obligations of the below appearances, percentage points will be taken away from the candidate's final student vote total. The only excuse for missed appearances are for class, as you all are students first. However, any class conflicts must be submitted via email within 48 hours of the Royal Court Information Meeting. Internships, jobs, other involvement commitments, etc are not excused and will result in point deductions.

Communication is a vital part of the holistic Royal Court process. Royal Court represents some of the most outstanding students at UNCG, so both the honor and responsibilities are high. Communication is required throughout the process, especially in regards to attendance and tardiness. Lack of communication, missed mandatory events without prior approval/communication, and other disregard for policy and rules will result in a point deduction as seen fit by the Campus Activities and Program staff. Every year we are unable to accept qualified and fit students to Royal Court, so please respect the process and your fellow students throughout all events.

Some appearances may require professional attire. At the Royal Court Information Meeting, each candidate will be given one (1) Royal Court sash that they will be expected to wear to every required Royal Court Scheduled event. Please note that while you are allowed to wear your Royal Court sash outside of these events, the sashes are extremely frail and fray easily, so please use caution as we will not have any replacements.
